The Encore 285 is built using Elddis SoLiD construction method. In short, the aluminium composite walls, roof, and floor are all bonded together using Henkel sealants. Keyway joints are used in preference to screws and rivets, the idea being to maximise the overall body strength and minimise water ingress. To keep water out below floor level, a GRP (fibreglass) skin covers the underside

All round are stylish-looking, tinted acrylic, double-glazed windows
